ATTACHMENT 1Master of Minimally Invasive Surgery

The program will provide a professional qualification for those who wish to have minimally invasive surgery as a predominant part of their future surgical practice. In particular, the aim is to produce surgeons who have an understanding of the theory of laparoscopic procedures combined with a thorough clinical grounding in laparoscopic surgery.

The course is run via an online platform over four quadesters.

Successful completion of the program will enable surgeons to obtain senior appointments in surgical units where they will be able to perform laparoscopic surgery with a high level of success.

The one year program will comprise the following components: supervised clinical placement in either a government or non-government hospital; lectures and tutorials; teaching with low and high fidelity laparoscopic training devices; and the production of one research publication which is deemed suitable for submission to a peer reviewed journal.

The learning objectives of the program are to:

- 1) Ensure surgeons have an understanding of anatomy and patho/physiology of minimally invasive techniques
- 2) Give surgeons an improved knowledge of ergonomics and its application to minimally invasive surgery
- 3) Ensure surgeons acquire the skills to perform successful minimally invasive surgery by use of high and low fidelity laparoscopic training devices and supervised clinical work.
- 4) Instruct surgeons in how to identify and treat operative and post-operative complications arising during and from minimally invasive surgery
- 5) Advance surgeons' ability to review and understand relevant literature about minimally invasive surgery.
- 6) Advance surgeons' research skills by formulating a research problem and producing one publication which is deemed suitable for submission to a peer reviewed journal
